DUMPERS WILL BE WATCHED TO SEE WHERE THEY SELL

Association Men Plan to Stop Breaches in Calloway County.

Night Rider Scare is Enjoyed Again.

RAISE MONUMENT TO PIONEER

Murray, Ky., March 18.—(Special.)—Dissatisfied tobacco growers in Calloway county are claiming that association officials have again broken faith with them, the latest breach of faith being the attempt to secure evidence to indict farmers, who have sold pledged tobacco. Ewing and Washington in their famous "ostracism" speeches here recently tacitly gave assurance that no attempt would be made to punish the "common herd" of dumpers unless independent selling became so general as to be dangerous, and it is supposed that extremity has been reached, as riders were sent to the western section of the county yesterday to get evidence to be presented to the grand jury when it meets the second Monday in April.

West Side Alarmed.
A clandestine meeting of several suspicious looking characters near the residence of Mr. Sam Story, a well known farmer of the west side, a few nights ago was at first believed to be night riders, but a thorough investigation by officers revealed no evidence that the gathering of men was for that purpose, but since it has been learned that night riders are active in the counties "across the river," a strict watch will be kept upon the former leaders of the Calloway clan by officers under direction of Judge Patterson.

Pioneer's Monument.
A handsome monument in memory of William Gardner, a pioneer of Calloway county, has been completed and will be erected at his grave in the Gardner cemetery, east of Murray. The monument was bought by funds raised by popular subscription from friends and admirers of Mr. Gardner, who was widely known throughout western Kentucky. He was a leading member of the Baptist church and a Mason. Mr. Gardner was the grandfather of F. N. Gardner, Jr., of Paducah, and has other relatives in that city.

City Candidates.
The city Democratic committee will meet March 25 to fix the time and manner of nominating candidates for mayor, police judge and council. The only announced candidates are Judge S. P. Simpson and W. E. Peterson, for police judge.

Go to Brinkley, Ark.
Dow Slaughter and Otley Farley, local brickmasons, left yesterday for Brinkley, Ark., where there is a demand for men of their trade in rebuilding that city, which was destroyed by the recent cyclone.

Railroad Commission

The state railroad commissioners will pass through Paducah tomorrow afternoon on a general inspection trip of the Illinois Central railroad. The party in a special train will leave Louisville early tomorrow morning, and will arrive in Paducah tomorrow afternoon about 1 o'clock. After a short stop the party will leave for Fulton, and thence will go to Cairo Junction. Then tomorrow night the commissioners will return to Paducah over the Cairo line. The party may spend the night in Paducah and Saturday morning leave for Hopkinsville and a trip over the other branches of the road.

STEEL MERGER IS FORMED TO FIGHT U. S. CORPORATION

Pittsburgh, March 18.—Careful inquiry today into the reported plans of a new steel merger to fight the United States steel corporation showed the steel men here to be very reticent. Silence gives weight to the story of the merger, including the biggest independents in the steel trade. Lackawanna and Bethlehem companies are said to be the backbone of the new combine. John W. Gates is said to be the man who will form the merger.

Jury Reports it Cannot Agree in Cooper Trial and Judge Hart Says He Will Hold it Two More Weeks

Excessive Cost of Trial and Difficulty in Procuring Jury Practically Makes It Certain This is Last Trial.

Nashville, Tenn., March 18.—After court adjourned this morning the jury intimated to the judge it is impossible to agree on a verdict. The court announced that it would have to agree. He said he will keep the men locked up for two weeks until an agreement is reached. Since eleven of the men on the jury are farmers and seedling time is passing, he believes such a decision will make them reach an agreement if anything will. Judge Hart's determination to compel an agreement is said to be due to the great expense to the county of the present trial, which makes a retrial practically impossible. The entire county was scoured to secure the jury.

Autos Used in Chase

Los Angeles, Cal., March 18.—Some where between here and Mexico, Harry Brown, broker, is believed to be speeding south in an auto with $117,000 in cash said to be stolen from his clients. In another machine are two detectives chasing him. Harry Zimmer yesterday gave the police the tip that Brown was fleeing with the cash and the chase began. No word from them has yet been received.

$75,000 For Reelfoot

Union City, Tenn., March 18.—The West Tennessee Land company, through Hon. Seld Waddell, secretary, submitted to the legislature this afternoon, a proposition to sell the Reelfoot lake property, with necessary approaches thereto, for $75,000. The committee, it is thought, will not be favorable to this price, and so far as expressions have been heard, no disinterested citizen considers with any degree of favor so high a price.

Harriman Won't Quit

New York, March 18.—Financial interests are puzzled over conflicting stories from Pasadena relative to the alleged intention of Harriman to retire from active business.

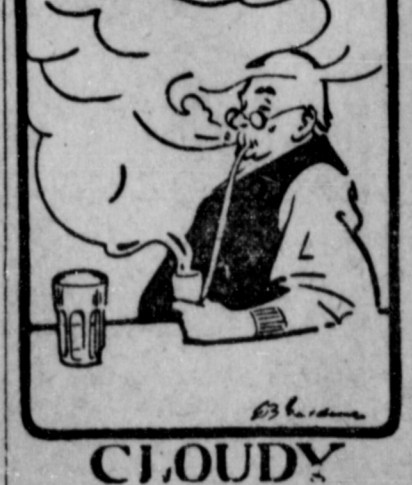

Report Is False.

Los Angeles, March 18.—There is absolutely no foundation for the report that I intend to retire from business, was the statement Harriman issued today. He made a statement in regard to his health to explain the frequency of recent vacations, but he did not mean to quit.

BARLOW VISITED BY FIRE THAT BURNS DOWN HOTEL AND ONE GENERAL STORE

Barlow, Ky., March 18. (Special.)—Fire destroyed the Barlow hotel early this morning and the general store of W. R. Crice, besides damaging the residence of J. W. Crice. For some time the entire town was in danger of destruction, but the citizens turned out and succeeded in extinguishing the blaze. The loss will amount to about $3,500 partially covered by insurance.

The fire broke out this morning about 3 o'clock in the kitchen of the hotel and rapidly spread over the two-story frame structure. The hotel

Increasing cloudiness and warmer tonight followed by rain late tonight or Friday. Highest temperature yesterday, 53; lowest today, 35.

MONUMENT FUND TAG DAY WILL BE NEXT SATURDAY

To Raise Money For Confederate Memorial in Lang Circle.

Where Girls and Matrons Will be Stationed.

EVERYONE WILL BE TAGGED

Saturday will be Tag Day, and the Daughters of the Confederacy, who have planned the day, have been ceaseless in their work to make it a success. So thoroughly will the city be tagged that nobody will escape, unless he crawls into a hole early in the morning, and does not emerge until late at night. Nearly every girl in the city will sell tags, and if the weather is pleasant it is practically certain that a large sum will be raised for the completion of the Confederate monument in Lang park. When completed, the monument will be the pride of the city, and with such a worthy object in prospect it is hoped that the general public will respond liberally when the tags are pinned on.

Basketball Game

Probably what will turn out to be the best games of the season in basketball will be played tomorrow night at the Eagles' gym. A double-header game will be played between the four leading teams of the city league, and the teams have been putting in some hard practice the last week, preparatory to the games to be played tomorrow night. The D. A. D. team vs. the C. C. and W. five, and the Elks vs. the K. of C. team. The first game will be called at 8:15 o'clock.

City Will Appeal

The city will appeal the case in which the state has sued for taxes on the city wharf, markethouse, fire stations and Oak Grove cemetery. The county court was sustained by Judge Reed in holding the city liable for the tax, and this morning a motion for a new trial was made, and it was promptly overruled by Judge Reed. An appeal was prayed and it was granted.

Cleveland's Birthday

New York, March 18.—The seventy-second anniversary of the birth of Cleveland is being widely celebrated in New York today. Memorial meetings are being held in many places. The biggest is at Carnegie Hall, at 3 o'clock this afternoon with President Taft as the principal speaker.

Coeur D'Alene Horror

Wallace, Idaho, March 18.—The works of the Coeur D'Alene Powder company blew up today, killing three employees and injuring one, and demolishing five buildings. It also demolished the concentrating mill of the Coeur D'Alene Concentrator company.

President in New York.

Washington, March 18.—President Taft, in the private car, Constitution, left this morning for New York, where he will deliver an address at the Carnegie hall at the memorial meeting for Cleveland's birthday.

Four Yesterday.

Yesterday was a busy day for the fire ladders, as four alarms were answered. The only fire of any consequence was when the residence of Magistrate George Broadfoot, 315 Elizabeth street, caught fire last night about 7:30 o'clock. The fire originated from an overturned stove, and the fire broke out while the family was away from home. Damage to the extent of about $200 was done. Fire companies Nos. 2 and 4 answered the alarm and by quick work extinguished the blaze in short order.

Mr. J. W. Hendricks, the owner of the hotel was in Paducah last night, and did not know anything of the fire until about 9:30 o'clock this morning.

Rev. J. W. Jones Critically Ill.

Columbus, Ga., March 18.—Rev. J. William Jones, D. D., of Richmond, Va., chaplain general of the United Confederate veterans and an author and lecturer, is ill here. His physicians said today there was no hope of recovery.

House Ways and Means Committee Adopts Favorable Report on Payne Bill and Democrats Find it Honest

Some Senators Fear Special Interest Are Hurt and it Will Require Two Months to Pass Bill.

Washington, March 18.—Chairman Payne today reported the tariff bill back to the house with recommendation for passage. Work on it will begin at once.

The general debate on the bill probably will start in the house Monday. It probably will be limited to three or four days, the desire being to devote most of the time to the consideration by sections and schedules, when the members will be given an opportunity to offer individual amendments. It is thought the final vote of the house probably will come the first week in April. Democrats have not outlined plans of action.

A report, recommending the adoption of the tariff bill was reached at the morning session of the ways and means committee. The report was adopted in committee, 130 to 6, and was made on party lines, excepting that Broussard, of Louisiana, a Democrat, voted with the Republicans. No change was made in the bill as reported yesterday.

Chairman's Report.
The report submitted by Chairman Payne said the two main reasons for the revision of the tariff now were that since the passage of the former law many new conditions have arisen, and second that many countries had adopted maximum and minimum rates, making the old law too rigid to meet trade conditions in these countries.

Statistics of the department of commerce and labor and the state department were valuable in aiding the committee in securing information necessary to revise the rates, he said.

A Minority Report.
At the late meeting of the Democratic members of the ways and means committee, following a meeting of the full committee which reported the tariff bill for passage, Champ Clark was authorized to write the minority report. He will do this in consultation with his colleagues, and the meeting to consider the matter will be held tomorrow.

The Bill is Honest.
Democrats find the bill so evidently an honest attempt at revision that they are eagerly searching the final pages to find a possible joker. Until the study of the measure is complete they will not form a definite plan of action.

It is understood at least two months will be required to pass the bill in the senate. Many expressions of approval of some reductions are heard, but some senators find the favored interests suffering and plan a fight.

Will Oppose Lumber Cut.
Washington, March 18.—The Kentucky Republican delegation held a caucus on the Payne tariff bill. The delegation is much wrought up over the cut of one-half in the tariff on lumber, and will fight every inch of the way to get this tariff put up to $2 a thousand, which is the present rate. The caucus was to decide upon a plan of united action. The delegation is pleased with the tariff on flour spurs, but the reduction on the lumber tariff is a fly in the ointment as far as Kentucky is concerned.

Disciplining Democrats.
Washington, D. C., March 18.—The program for the disciplining of the twenty-three recalcitrant Democrats who on last Monday deserted their party standard bearer in the face of the enemy, will not be adhered to if the advice of Senator Bailey and several other Democrats in the senate is heeded.

CITY AND COUNTY MAY COOPERATE TO FILL THE HOLLOW

Judge Lightfoot Will Address General Council on Subject Tonight.

License Falling Off—Standard Oil Ordinance.

PARK BOARD WANTS HEARING

Co-operation between the city and county for draining and filling the hollows, which extend around south and west ends from the mouth of Island creek through the ramifications of Cross and Bradshaw creeks, is more than probable, and tonight County Judge Lightfoot will address the general council on the subject. The growth of the city beyond these hollows demands that something be done with them for the health of the community and the redemption of valuable waste lands. County Road Supervisor Bert Johnson and City Engineer Washington will be present also.

Mayor Smith has called the lower board to meet and pass the tax rate ordinance on its final reading, and as this is the regular meeting night of the aldermen, it is convenient to assemble them to discuss matters.

Tenth Street Boulevard.

The park commissioners also have a matter they wish to discuss, and Dr. Murrell, president of the board, has been invited to address the joint session, which, by the way, will include the members of the board of public works by invitation. The park board is desirous of getting Tenth street opened the full width, if possible before May 15, when the Confederate monument in Lang circle is to be dedicated.

License Not Collected.

It is probable that city licenses will be up for discussion. Since the circuit court has decided that Robert Hicks is no longer license inspector and the general council has refused to pay Ed Hubbard, who, the court says, was elected to succeed Hicks, nobody is enforcing the collection of licenses, and the city is facing a deficit of possibly $20,000 for the year. Many licenses that could have been collected in January cannot now be collected and the longer collections are deferred the more difficult it is to get in all the money.

Eliminating liquor licenses and considering the increase in license rates this year, the city is about $6,000 behind last year up to March 15. During January, February and March, 1908, the city collected, exclusive of liquor licenses, $16,535.37. During the same months of 1909, exclusive of liquor licenses, the city has collected $13,828.22. The exact difference is less than $3,000; but more revenue was anticipated this year and the apportionment of funds greater, requiring larger collections. The difference in the amount indicates that the number of people paying licenses up to this time is fully a third less than last year.

Of course, the suit to nullify the license ordinance, which recently failed, partially accounts for this.

Standard Oil Ordinance.
The ordinance requiring the Standard Oil company to move its tanks from the heart of the city will be up tonight.

Representatives of the Standard Oil company were here from Louisville this week seeking to prevent the passage of the ordinance by the general council.

Harry McGowan, of Louisville, who conducted the party of councilmen and aldermen through the oil plant, is still here, and tonight Mr. Henry Burnett, of Louisville's attorney for the oil plant, will appear before the general council. It is generally understood that if the ordinance is defeated, it will be in the lower board. It was on motion of Councilman Foreman, now president, that the ordinance was shelved, and it is believed that the representatives of the trust have gotten in their best licks among councilmen, who will be put on record as soon as the vote is taken.

Since the big fire, originating in the Standard Oil company's plant, Tenth and Monroe streets, from engine sparks, and the report of the fire chief that the whole city is menaced by the tanks, and the insurance companies consider it dangerous, citizens are aroused and will look with suspicion on any members of the general council, who vote to retain the tanks inside the corporation line.

Register Sale.
Time expired yesterday in which bondholders of the Register Newspaper company could make bond to reopen sale of the plant, and as no extension was granted, it is practically certain that sale of the equipment to E. J. Paxton will be confirmed by Judge Evans.

NO AID CAME.

Cleveland, March 18.—About midnight neighbors of Harry Laymois heard dishes breaking. They didn't investigate, but this morning a policeman, seeing broken dishes on the sidewalk, climbed into the house and found Laymois dead. He suffered from a growth in the throat. He was awakened during the night suffering an attack and broke the dishes to attract aid. The family was away from home.

Issue of the Democrats in the house from the unfortunate predicament in which their party has been placed through the faithlessness of twenty-three erring colleagues, Senator Bailey conferred at length with Champ Clark, Democratic leader in the house. Senator Bailey was invited to Mr. Clark's committee room, where several other leading Democrats had previously assembled.

Pronounced Grave Mistake.
It is the deliberately formed opinion of Senator Bailey that it would be a grave mistake, nay a huge blunder, for the Democratic caucus to undertake the castigation of the Republicans for the Fitzgerald amendments to the rules. To those with whom he talked today Senator Bailey took the ground that "people would not condone nor endorse such action, that they expected their representatives in congress to perform the specific service for which they were commissioned and partisanship for the mere sake of partisan pique would not be amiably received by them."

He said also that any rigid punishment that might be inflicted upon the erring Democrats would inevitably rebound to the majority as a working asset and under the circumstances the minority needed recruits instead of adding to the strength of the Republicans. It was along these lines that Senator Bailey counseled those who sought his advice, though he did not hesitate to condemn those Democrats who are responsible for the plight of the party in the house.

Diplomatic Reprimand.
As a result of the pacificatory counsel the extent of the expression of the Democratic caucus next Monday night in regard to the perverse course of the unruly twenty-three probably will be a diplomatically phrased reprimand.

The humiliating part of the scandalous deal to Mr. Clark and others is that it should have been consummated through the instrumentality of Democratic voters. While the southern Democrats who helped to put through the Fitzgerald rules amendments probably were not influenced by Tammany Hall they are charged with having been in pursuit of tariff favors for the industries in their districts and of good committee assignments which several of them received yesterday.

Taft Will Be Brave.
New York, March 18.—President Taft will take responsibility for the tariff bill. He made that fact plain on his arrival today, saying when it finally reached him he would either sign or veto it, and not allow it to become a law by statutory limitations, as Cleveland did with the Wilson bill.

INTERURBAN HAS FINE PROSPECTS FOR ITS SUCCESS

Work on the financing of the Paducah Southern Electric company, which has surveyed three routes for an interurban railroad from Paducah to Mayfield is progressing rapidly, and is in better shape than ever before its directors state. Financial conditions have made the financing of new roads extremely difficult, but Mr. H. H. Loving in a statement today said that only recently a proposition had been made by a large trust company, and that it was almost certain that the bonds would be floated.

The company has spent several thousand dollars in preliminary plans, and only recently a contract was placed for the construction of the track in Mayfield. No date has been set for the construction work, but the directors announce that they will push the floating of the bonds, and with the assurance they have the trust company taking the bonds, it is hoped to have the work begin soon.

TAFT IS WORKING HIS OFFICE FORCE

He Doesn't Eat Anything at the Noon Hour.

Garfield Leaves Interior Department in Better Condition Than He Found It.

SOME OF HIS BEST WORK.

Washington, March 18.—President Taft is starving his secretaries, stenographers, telegraph operators and messengers.
It isn't because he is penurious or hard hearted, or because he wishes to deprive his subordinates of food, but because he does not eat any midday meal himself, that twenty-five or thirty husky young men about the executive offices are going around with a famished look in their eyes and praying that hunger may overtake their new chief.
President Roosevelt always went to his luncheon at 1:30 p. m., and remained up at the "big house" until 3. Often he did not come back at all but from luncheon went out for a ride with Mrs. Roosevelt or some of his friends. Now all is changed. There is no such thing as "lunch hour." Mr. Taft occasionally eats an apple about noon, but never anything more substantial, and seems to thrive, grow strong and remain cheerful on nothing at all from 8 a. m. until 7 p. m.
Moreover, the employees at the white house have discovered thus early in the administration that President Taft is a glutton for work if he is not for food, and not thinking about luncheon himself, forgets that anyone else can be hungry, and drives the force right ahead, hour after hour so long as there is any work in sight.

The Choice of Seats.
Members of the house are willing to give newcomers a fair chance at the seats but not at rooms in the building devoted to offices for representatives. Seats are drawn by lot on the first day of each congress. The Republican leader, the ex-speaker and the oldest members are given their choice but all the others stand on an equal footing and whether they fare good or ill depends upon their luck.
Over in the office building first choice is given old members. As a result of the last election, seventy-seven of these rooms were vacated by outgoing members on March 4. The best of these rooms have been seized by members who were less desirably situated, and the newly elected statesmen can have their choice of what is left.

A Small Theft.
Because he stole a waist belt of the unfortunate value of 23 cents, Recruit Athol N. Carewell, of the unassigned infantry, was sentenced by a court martial at Fort McDowell, Cal., to be dishonorably discharged from the service of the United States, forfeiting all pay and allowance due him, and to be confined at hard labor for six months.
This sentence was approved by the reviewing authorities, but as the members of the court made an unanimous recommendation for clemency, the sentence was mitigated to three months' confinement at hard labor and forfeiture of ten dollars a month for the same period.

Garfield's Record.
Now that James Rudolph Garfield is out of office, there is considerable speculation as to his future part in politics. He denies the rumors that he is to be given a place on the federal bench, in Ohio or elsewhere, and says that he is going back home to practice law.

There is genuine regret among the friends of the interior. He is credited with a better understanding of western conditions than any other man who ever held the position.

The business of the department under Garfield undoubtedly was better administered than it has been under any former secretary.

One of the greatest reforms he instituted was the classification of coal and other mineral lands. The law provides that the lands shall be sold at a minimum price of $10 an acre when more than 15 miles away. The custom had been to sell these lands always for the minimum price, and many corporations secured lands and built the railroads afterwards from the profits. Garfield had the geological survey classify the lands as to the value of the deposits and they were sold thereafter on a business basis.

He also cleaned out the land agents who had been corrupted by corporate interests and organized an efficient land office force. He succeeded in getting through congress more and better legislation affecting the territories, especially Hawaii and Alaska, than any of his predecessors.

At this session of congress, Garfield secured an appropriation giving the land office a million dollars to spend to prevent frauds. In addition he got through a law separating the surface from the sub-surface in dealing with public lands, so that a homesteader who had unwittingly settled over a vein of coal as agricultural land could not be ousted without payment of damages.

It is expected that Richard A. Ballinger, the new secretary of the interior, will carry out the same policies, although he is as different from Garfield in temperament and methods as Taft is from Roosevelt.

REELFOOT
LAKE INVESTIGATION HELD AT UNION CITY.

Question of State Buying Sheet of Water From the Land Company.

Union City, Tenn., March 18.—The most interesting witness before the legislative committee investigating the advisability of making Reelfoot Lake, the scene of the recent night rider outrages, a hunting and fishing preserve, was W. M. Wilson, who stated that fifty years ago he claimed the ownership of the lake, but "did not have much faith in his title" and disposed of it at a small price. He still claims 5,000 acres, now a part of the lake, which he offers to the state for $450. This is also claimed by the West Tennessee Land company. He expressed the opinion that the holdings of the land company were worth about $15,000. If they had a title to it, and was positive that peace would never be restored until the property was owned by the state.

The committee heard four important witnesses, closing with P. C. Ward, proprietor of the famous Walnutlog hotel, from which Captain Rankin and Colonel Taylor were taken the night Rankin was murdered. J. L. Mosier, representing the Oblion citizens desiring to have the state purchase the lake, closed the direct testimony with S. P. Howard, and reserved the right to introduce others should they come, which they did, shedding much light on the history of famous Reelfoot lake.

Col. R. Z. Taylor Examined.
Col. R. Z. Taylor, always an interesting figure before the public, was examined on behalf of the land company, giving a succinct account of all the grants by North Carolina and Tennessee, and declared that they had been gone over by the supreme court and decided in favor of the owners, one member of the committee said. "Well, colonel, you seem to have gained every point." Colonel Taylor will be placed on the stand for cross-examination, when it is said the evidence will be adduced that in reversing the famous decision of Judge W. H. Swiggart, which was in favor of the fishermen, the supreme court did not pass on the bills, but said the lake was subject to personal ownership.

"Uncle" Billy Wilson, of Oblion, 50 years ago owned an interest in the lake bought from W. C. Caldwell, whose title was land grants from Tennessee in 1846. Mr. Wilson made a strong witness against the land company's right to ownership. Many years ago he was threatened with violence because he opposed natives removing valuable walnut logs from the lake, but he was ordered to leave or they would make fish bait of him. He insists now that he has no rights to what he claims, but his are as good as the land company's and offers his 5,000 acres to the state at 15 cents an acre, what it cost him 50 years ago, and if the state won't pay him that he will give it away that it may be public property.

Set a Trap for the MORTGAGE

P. C. Ward testified as to his contract with J. C. Burdick, lessee from the land company, to whom he pays three-quarters of a cent for each pound of fish. The fishermen are his friends, but are disgruntled at the low prices, caused, they think, by the land company.

Mr. Ward was queried by the forestry and game committee sitting here to investigate irregularities reported. Mr. Ward knew three men from Louisville who had been allowed to violate the game laws by payment of a fee of five dollars each, which went to the purse of the game warden. Queried further, he admitted he knew of no man fit for the place of game warden or that would have it.

MORE PINKHAM CURES
Added to the Long List due to This Famous Remedy.

Camden, N.J.—"It is with pleasure that I add my testimonial to your already long list—hoping that it may induce others to avail themselves of this valuable medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered from terrible headaches, pain in my back and right side, was tired and nervous, and so weak I could hardly stand. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored me to health and made me feel like a new person, and it shall always have my praise."
—Mrs. W. P. VALENTINE, 902 Lincoln Avenue, Camden, N. J.
Gardner, Me.—"I was a great sufferer from a female disease. The doctor said I would have to go to the hospital for an operation, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured me in three months."
—Mrs. S. A. WILLIAMS, R. F. D. No. 14, Box 39, Gardner, Me.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, indigestion, dizziness, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result is worth millions to many suffering women.

HOW SHE WON SUCCESS ON THE STAGE.

[Copyright, 1908, by American Press Association.]

Heloise Garnier was playing with a Parisian dramatic company at Geneva. Mlle. Garnier was by no means the leading woman. Indeed, her part was lady's maid, and all she had to say during the performance was, "I think the count very handsome." Nor was Mlle. Garnier pretty nor distinguished looking. Indeed, she was a very ordinary girl of twenty, though it must be confessed a very good one.

On the last night that the company performed at Geneva Mlle. Garnier was surprised at receiving a card on which was engraved the name "Caspar Pearson." There was also written in pencil, "I shall esteem it a favor if Mlle. Garnier will permit me to thank her in person for the pleasure she has given me."

Not only was mademoiselle, but the rest of the company, astonished. None of the principal actresses had received such a compliment. Mlle. Garnier at once became an important personage in their eyes. Caspar Pearson was admitted behind the scenes. He appeared to be a young man of respectability. He was deferential to the lady, to whom he had taken a fancy, and after the play his father, who was in the theater, sent mademoiselle an invitation to sup at the family home.

The father, the mother and the son united in praising the young actress' bearing on the stage, the well modulated tone in which she had spoken the few lines assigned her and agreed that she should have a better part, predicting a final triumph for her in her art. Pearson pere offered to give her an introduction to his brother in Paris, who, he said, had great influence with the press and theatrical managers. When she left the house for her hotel young Pearson accompanied her in the family carriage. He asked permission to call in the morning and see her to the train.

The next morning when Caspar Pearson drove up to the hotel the eyes of every member of the company were leveled at him. He brought a large bouquet of flowers, which he begged mademoiselle to accept, informing her at the same time that his father had telegraphed to "Uncle Gaston," in Paris, who would meet her at the station, take her home to dinner and consult as to a plan for her advancement in her profession.

When they reached Paris a gentleman advanced and asked which was Mlle. Garnier, and when she was pointed out to him took her to his carriage, and they were driven to his home. During the ride he talked much about the family estate in Geneva.

"And those flowers," he said, "would know at once they came from the gardens of our old homestead. Do you know, I laid out those gardens myself years ago."

"Please accept them," said mademoiselle, "since they are so precious to you."

Uncle Gaston formed many plans for Mlle. Garnier's pursuit of her profession. None of them ever seemed to come to a head, but the attention she had received bore fruit. The manager of the company advanced her rapidly, and it was not long before she had every opportunity. Her talents as an actress were mediocre, but she found a part that she could play admirably, and this gained her great success.

Soon after her experience in Geneva young Caspar Pearson went to Paris and called upon her. She was very grateful to him for having been the motive power in starting her upward in her profession, and after a time he began to show a great partiality for her. Uncle Gaston heard of his nephew's attentions and wrote his brother of them. The consequence was a visit to Paris of the youngster's father and a violent scene between father and son in presence of the actress, the father threatening to disinherit the son unless he gave up his love. The son then threatened to denounce his father and his uncle for some offense he did not state, and consent was finally reluctantly given.

Mlle. Garnier, now Mme. Pearson, continued to act under her former name. It was not till some time after her marriage that she reaped the full benefit of the start she had received and which she considered entirely due to the admiration her husband had conceived for her at first sight. But whenever she would give demonstrative evidence of her gratitude her husband would turn away with displeasure and beg her not to mention the subject again. One day she asked him:

"Caspar, what did you mean by threatening to denounce your father and uncle when they opposed our marriage?"

Pearson thought awhile, then said: "I have a confession to make. Do you remember the immense bouquet I gave you the morning of your departure from Geneva?"

"Yes. It was beautiful."

"It contained $10,000 worth of watch springs."

"Watch springs?"

"Yes. The whole scheme was to make a smuggler of you. It succeeded admirably. My admiration and love for you came afterward."

"Oh Caspar!"

"Do not condemn me till I have told you all. The duty on Geneva watch springs was very large. When at my father's death I inherited his share of the business I hunted up the entry of the profit on those you took in duty free and placed an equal sum at interest. The total I have put in a solitaire diamond for you. Here it is."

"Caspar, I forgive you."

Union Encampment of Odd Fellows elected representatives to the meeting of the grand lodge of Kentucky last night at its regular meeting in the "Three Links" building. The representatives chosen are: H. L. Judd and Joseph M. Cockrill. A. R. Davis was recommended as lodge deputy with headquarters in Paducah. The state encampment will be held in Richmond May 19, and will be called to order by G. Z. Umbaugh, of this city, the grand patriarch.

Dangerous Wood-Sawing Governor. Proverbial philosophy ascribes great virtue to the craft of the wood sawyer. He is credited with generating sapience with every rip and slash of his notched steel, with spontaneously acquiring cunning to watch his adversary and power of elbow and of wit to grind him to powder. And in such popular beliefs often lie the seeds of true wisdom. The instinct which perceives the brain engine at work, following the oscillating shoulders of the sawyer, is a true one. Something in the plunge, like twin pistons, of the rigid arms, guiding the mordant blade clean through straight grain and surly knot, stimulates the imagination and sharpens the wits. If the octopus in Missouri is a wise dragon, and wishes to keep his claws from the pruning knife, he will find some means to separate the governor from his sawbuck. In that basement of the executive mansion trouble is making for him.—New York World.

REVOLUTION IS NEARLY CRUSHED

Cuban Government Expects Surrender of Insurgents.

Father of Leaders of Revolt Informs Military Heads That Rebels Are Willing to Quit.

IF THEIR LIVES ARE SPARED.

Havana, March 18.—Indications are that the government is now in a fair way to crush promptly the incipient revolution which broke out in the province of Santa Clara Monday night.

After withholding the news of the trouble all day, the palace officials announced that the father of two members of the band headed by Sergeant Cortez, of the Rural Guards, had visited General Montecaud, the chief of the guard at Camajuani, and told him that the insurgents implored the clemency of the government and were anxious to surrender on promise that their lives would be spared.

Montecaud, accompanied by a strong escort, thereupon started for the insurgent camp. The general expected to receive their surrender before morning.

The insurgents are completely surrounded by a cordon of more than

Sometimes Help the Hair to Go.

In any changeable climate the hair is apt to become brittle and to break off stubby here and there. This makes a hair-dressing almost a necessity, especially to ladies. In using a hair dressing why not get the best, one that combines with it the efficiency in killing the dandruff germ, the germ that eats the hair off at the roots, causing what is called falling hair, and in time baldness. Newbro's "Herpicide" is that kind of a hair dressing. You have no idea how delightful your scalp will feel, and how stylish your hair will appear, after an application or two of Herpicide. It is certainly a wonderful innovation as a scalp antiseptic and hair-dressing. Sold by leading druggists. $1.00 bottle guaranteed. While the government still insists that the band consists of only eight men, it is alleged that the movement is far-reaching and includes a large number of those who have become discontented with the way affairs have been conducted.

FOLLOWED TRAIL

UNTIL IT WAS LOST ON THE PUBLIC ROAD.

Four Men Participated in Scraping of Plant Beds—New Ones to Be Burned.

Hopkinsville, Ky., March 18.—Lieut. Wilkins, of the police force and J. T. Walker returned last night from Mr. Walker's farm where they had gone yesterday morning with Lieut. Wilkins' two bloodhounds for the purpose of tracking, if possible, the vandals who destroyed the four tobacco plant beds by sowing them with grass seed Monday night.

The dogs did not reach the scene until about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon and owing to the time which had elapsed the trail had grown rather cold. The dogs took the scent very readily and followed it for some distance until they struck the big road, where it was lost. The plant beds were located in a woodland and the fact that the leaves had been more or less disturbed by the high wind of yesterday added to the odds against the dogs.

Judging from the tracks there were four men in the party which destroyed the beds, and it seems as if only two of these actually scattered the seed. In sowing the seed the night riders, or walkers in this case, stepped ruthlessly in the beds and marched up and down distributing the seed with a lavish hand. The top of the beds was literally covered with the seed. Only one bed had been canvassed and the sowers walked over this just the same the fine seed sifting through the canvas almost the same as if it had not been there. The tracks were followed some distance, the difference being plainly discernible, three of the men wearing different size and shaped shoes, while the fourth wore overshoes. No definite clue was secured, however.

Both Mr. Long and the tenants on Mr. Walker's place stated that they would burn new beds today and expected to have plenty of plants in spite of the loss of their first beds. They were angry and so were their neighbors over the wantonness and it is probable that a close watch will be kept in the future and that it will be very unhealthy for any prowlers to be caught in the neighborhood after reasonable hours.

Ten Plant Beds. Later reports from the northeastern section of the county show that ten, instead of four, tobacco plant beds were destroyed Monday night by being sowed with grass seed. The other six belonged to W. L. Cannon, 2; A. G. Elgin, 2; Alfred Elgin and Eli Marshall, 1. The work was evidently done at the same time the beds of J. T. Walker and Nin Long were destroyed.

"Smethurst," said an acquaintance, "what have you got in that bottle that I see you carrying about with you day and night?"

"Chloroform," said Smethurst. "What the deuce are you doing with chloroform here on the board walk?"

"That big dub of a Jones," said Smethurst, "has threatened to give me a sound thrashing the first time he meets me, and as soon as I see him coming I'm going to take a good dose. I don't propose to suffer if I can help it."—New York Tribune.

Daily Thought.

Stand with anybody that stands
right.—Lincoln.The Sun's new Washington service
doesn't leave anything for the papers
that are published next morning,
does it?We may expect some of that 25
millions to find its way into educational channels—eh, Chancellor Day?Deputy Marshal Elwood Neel is not a night rider; but Felix Ewing says Mr. Neel disturbed his bed.If Curt Jett's reformation is not speedily followed by a petition for a pardon, we will have implicit faith
in it.Ambitious First district Democrats will note that Olie James' elevation
to the ways and means committee
will naturally incline him to continue in congress. Middle aged aspirants to his seat stand little chance.If those druggists, caught selling whisky on Sunday, who declare they were inveigled into selling the stuff
by a pitiful tale, had given it away
instead of receiving money for it,
they would appear to a better advantage in the role of Good Samaritan.

COURT MUST DO ITS DUTY.

There is little encouragement for the police, who have waited weeks to catch a Sunday violator, to have the police judge cut the fine down, after leading the city attorney to believe that a higher fine and costs have been assessed.Last Sunday a druggist was arrested for selling liquor, and on motion of the city attorney a fine of $30 and costs was assessed. This was shown by a memorandum and
the understanding of the city attorney. The docket next day, however,
showed that the fine was made $20
and no costs and anyone can see that
"thirty" was first written and then
erased.Unless Paducah secures a police judge, who will back up the police and the prosecutor in their efforts to stop Sunday lawlessness, preaching reform will accomplish nothing.We do not know what influenced Police Judge Cross to do this; but it was done and citizens must judge for themselves.

PLANTING IN MARCH.

It seeds for the flower and vegetable gardens are not already in the hot-bed, or in boxes or pots placed near a sunny window, then the amateur gardener who wants to keep abreast of his neighbors when warm weather comes, would better prepare his hot-bed or boxes at once.The simpler method of raising plants to be set out after all danger
of frost is over, is to sow seed in boxes or pots to be kept indoors. The boxes should have holes for drainage
in the bottom, but should not be so open to let the soil dry. Ordinary garden soil may be used in the bottom, but on top there should be a lighter soil. Small seed should be sown on the surface; then fine soil
spread over them, and pressed down,
but not so hard as to cause the soil
to bake. Coarse seed can best be planted in little drills or each seedpressed down into the soil and the whole covered with a thin layer of earth. The soil should be gently sprinkled with water immediately
after the planting. Only the quantity of water which the soil will readily absorb without becoming soggy should be given. The box should be watered subsequently whenever the soil becomes dry a little below the surface.Set the box in the sunlight by the window, but shield it from the direct rays of the sun. Keep the soil well stirred to prevent it baking.—National Council of Horticulture.

SOME STORIES

AROUND TOWN

It is not often that an ex-mayor
is accused of "knocking down," as the higher officials are given a more appropriate name for the offense if guilty. Recently Dr. John Bonds, a member of the police and fire commissioners, went to St. Louis on business, and while absent from the city
secured ex-Mayor Yeiser to take charge of the drug store. Dr. Yeiser
is an old hand at the druggist's business, as for many years before he occupied the mayor's chair he was in the business.The week Dr. Bonds was away rain fell almost every day, and of course there was a remarkable falling off of trade. When Dr. Bonds returned he was greeted by the ex-mayor, who commented on the extreme dullness
of business. The cash drawer was opened and spying the few coins scattered around Dr. Bonds remarked:
"I know that an ex-mayor might be guilty of 'knocking down,' but I'll swear if I thought he would have taken it all." Dr. Yeiser appreciated
the joke as much as anyone.

MR. CHARLES T. TRUEHEART

WITH TIMBERLAKE & CO.

Louisville, March 18.—Charles T.
Trueheart has become identified with the well known insurance concern of Thomas C. Timberlake & company.
Mr. Timberlake will continue in charge of the office work, and Mr.
Trueheart will have charge of the business on the outside. The company has been in existence since 1853, and represents four of the most substantial fire, casualty, tornado, health and accident companies
in the country, including the Connecticut Fire Insurance company, of Hartford; the Northern Fire Assurance company, of London; the Mar-cantile Fire and Marine Insurance company, of Boston, and the Metropolitan Casualty company, of New York. Mr. Trueheart for many years conducted a fire insurance agency in Paducah, and about fifteen years ago
came to Louisville and took the general agency of the Prudential Life Insurance company, of which he disposed about three years ago. He is one of the best known insurance men
in the city.

Child Frightened Family.

The childish prank of hiding under the bed was the cause of an alarm
of burglars sent into the police station last night from the residence of Duke Scott, 519 South Tenth street.
Patrolmen Whitmore and England
went to the home in a hurry, but only a child had crawled under the bed with the purpose of frightening
the other children.

LIVE STOCK AND TOBACCO.

Louisville, Ky., March 18.—Cattle
—The receipts were 84 head, for the three days this week 1,799. There was a light attendance of buyers on the yards, the demand limited, and the market quiet. Choice handy weight butcher cattle were in good demand at about steady prices. Fair inquiry for good grade feeders and stockers. All medium and inferior kinds of butcher cattle were dull and draggy, and common light trashy
stockers hard to sell. Bulls steady.
Canners and cutters dull. Milch cows unchanged. No heavy cattle on sale, feeling unchanged. We quote: Shipping steers $4.50 @ 5.75; beef steers
$3 @ 5.25; fat heifers and cows $3 @
4.75; cutters $2 @ 3; canners, $1 @
2; bulls $2 @ 4; feeders $3 @ 4.75;
stockers $2.25 @ 4.50; choice milch
cows $35 @ 45; common to fair $15 @ 35.Calves—Receipts 146, for three days 428. The market ruled steady.
Bulk of the best 6 3/4 @ 7 1/4, some fancy higher; medium 4c to 6c; common 2 1/2 @ 4c.Hogs—Receipts 1,000 for three days 6,294. The market ruled firm and steady to a dime higher on strictly choice corn-fed hogs. Selected heavy and medium hogs, 160 lbs. and up $6.85; light shippers, 130 lbs. to 160 lbs. $6.25; pigs ranged from $5 @ 5.50; roughs, $5.90 down.Hogs from doubtful sections were almost unsalable; in fact none of the regular buyers would touch that class of hogs except under guarantee, with 3c per lb off on soft or oily hogs, and they sold at an uneven discount.Sheep and Lambs—Receipts 10 head, for three days 149. The market ruled quiet and unchanged, best lambs around 6c. Some fancy higher. Culls 3 @ 5c; fat sheep 4c down.
No demand for common trashy sheep
or thin cull lambs.St. Louis, March 18.—Cattle—Receipts 3,200, including 1,000 Texans;

May Sell 1908 Leaf.

The following notice is sent to salesmen in the dark district:To the salesmen of the Planters' Protective association:"You will recall that it has been the desire of the board of directors
that all tobacco of the 1907 crop remaining unsold be sold as rapidly as possible and that any part of the 1908
crop not coming in competition with the unsold part of the 1907 crop or any tobacco going into the stemming or re-drying trade might be sold. It is my purpose to announce that there is now no leaf tobacco of any character unsold, which will prevent the sale of the 1908 leaf. You are therefore instructed to put on sale everything but hogs of the 1908 crop."Below is a summary of the stock

ITALIAN SOCIETY

Rome, March 18.—The pope is deeply concerned over the assassination of Petrosino, according to a statement made in an interview with Manager G. G. Kelly and a band of 300 American pilgrims. He declared his belief that the Italian and American governments together will stamp out the black hand.

GUN DISCHARGED
AND BALL ENTERS
MR. SMITH'S HEAD

Mr. Shirley Smith, of Eddyville, was accidentally shot Tuesday afternoon while at work in the woods near Augusta, Kas., and was instantly killed. Mr. Smith was 25 years old and had been working in the lumber business in Kansas. He had a shotgun with him in the woods and laid the gun on the log he was chopping. His chopping on the log caused the gun to fall off and when it did, it was discharged, and the load of shot struck Mr. Smith in the head. The body of Mr. Smith was taken through the city this afternoon en route to Eddyville and was accompanied by his brother, Mr. Nacy Smith. Mr. H. G. Smith, another brother, met the body here and went to Eddyville. The dead man is survived by a sister, Miss Eunice Smith, and another brother, Mr. Joseph Smith, of Eddyville. Mr. A. C. Mitchell, of this city, is a cousin of Mr. Shirley Smith. Mr. Mitchell went to Eddyville this afternoon.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

Thursday Night Club.
The Thursday Night club will meet this evening at 8:15 o'clock in the parlors of the Palmer House. The program will be presented by Miss Rella Coleman and Mr. Edwin J. Paxton.

Pleasantly Celebrated Birthday.
Mrs. B. Michael, of Third and Ohio streets, entertained a number of her friends and relatives last night in honor of her birthday. The entertainment was a most pleasant one. Dancing was enjoyed during the evening and delicious refreshments were served.

Sponsor for Tennessee Division.
One of the first appointments of sponsors for the coming Confederate Veterans' reunion in Memphis in June was that of Miss Bessie Glascock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Glascock, of Union City, Tenn. Miss Glascock has been appointed sponsor-in-chief of the Tennessee division, U. C. V., by General McDowell, commanding officer.

Pretty Class Entertainment.
The Sunday school class of Mrs. E. G. Boone of the First Christian church was delightfully entertained by Mrs. Virgil Garner at her home, 408 South Sixth street, Wednesday night in honor of the sixteenth birthday of her son, Mr. Lorenzo Garner, who is a member of the class. Two of the other members of the class, Messrs. Milton Steffen and John Barnham, whose birthdays came this month, were also guests of honor.

A pink and white color scheme was prettily carried out in the house decorations and in the refreshments. The table had a centerpiece of pink carnations on a Cluny lace cover. Candela, with pink shades, further emphasized the color effect. Pink and white brick ice cream was served. The guests of honor had birthday cakes containing souvenirs, for which the other guests cut.

The evening was enjoyably spent with games. In a guessing contest Mr. Fred Wahl won a souvenir of the evening, a "Pipe of Peace," in honor of St. Patrick. About 40 young people were present. Each member of the class had the privilege of inviting one guest.

Jefferson League to Meet Friday.
The Jefferson School Improvement League will meet Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Jefferson building, corner Eighth and Harrison streets. Miss Alice Compton will give a talk on "Child Study." Mrs. John J. Dorian will discuss "Parents' Responsibility to the Schools."

Open Meeting of Crescendo Club.
The Crescendo club, which is composed of Miss Virginia Newell's music class, held an open meeting at the Woman's club house Wednesday afternoon. A large number of guests were present. A miscellaneous musical program was carried out. Those taking part were Misses Aline Utterback, Mary Terry Burnett, Ruth Hinkle, Cora Robertson, Edith Sherrill, Eunice Robertson and Elsie Speck.

The club is studying the Wagner Nibelungen tetralogy. Miss Newell told the story of the third of the cycle, "Siegfried," yesterday afternoon. The first and second have been presented at previous meetings. Miss Eunice Robertson gave the story of the first of the cycle, "Rheingold." The second, "Valhalla," was discussed by Miss Willie May Rascoe. The fourth will be taken up by the club as its next study.

At Woman's Club.

The Woman's club met in regular session at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the club house. The open meeting at 3:30 o'clock is under the auspices of the Civics department. Mr. John B. Atkinson, of Earlinton, is the speaker and will lecture on "Forestry" from the viewpoint of a practical and successful business man. Several musical numbers preceded the lecture.

Children's Hour Saturday at Library.
The children's hour at the Carnegie library Saturday morning at 10 o'clock will be a delightful one. Mrs. A. R. Meyers will give a talk on "The Quest of the Holy Grail," and will present the charming story in a way to especially appeal to the children.

Theater Party of Out-of-Town People.

Miss Anna May Cannon, Miss Mable Norman and Miss Norman, of Mayfield, arrived in the city this morning and are the guests of Mr. W. N. Brockenborough, of St. Louis, at the Palmer Hotel. Mr. Brockenborough will entertain his guests with a theater party tonight at "Polly of the Circus."

WILL RETURN CAPTURED FLAG.

To Be in Charge of Old Soldiers at Return.

Columbus, O., March 18.—Two members of the Fourth Ohio cavalry will bear back to the southland a Confederate flag captured by that organization from Alabama at Selma, that state, during the Civil war.

Governor Harmon, in a letter to Mrs. Charles G. Brown, president of the Alabama division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy of Birmingham, concluded that a personal delivery of the flag would be fitting and that he would select members of the command that brought it to Ohio to take it back to the former owners.

It is Governor Harmon's intention to have the flag turned it over to the soldiers who once carried it aloft at a reunion to be held at Huntsville, Ala., May 1.

Memory of Nathan M. Uri.
Louisville, Ky., March 18.—Resolutions adopted by the Louisville Lodge of the Order B'nai B'rith eulogize the late Nathan M. Uri in the highest terms and pay a fitting tribute to the character of a man who did as much in his day as any other to advance the interests of his home city. The resolutions were prepared by Fred Levy, Norton L. Goldsmith and Samuel Lederman.

A brief outline of the program for the entertainment of the officers of the grand lodge of the order at the Galt House on April 18 was reported by the committee on arrangements. This occasion will bring about 300 visitors to Louisville.

EVERYONE NEEDS S.S.S. IN THE SPRING

This is just a short talk which we hope will be of interest and help to you in selecting the tonic and blood purifier that will be of the greatest value to you this Spring.

That this is the most trying of all seasons on the health is a fact well known to us all. It is the time of year when our constitutions are required to stand the greatest strain, and unless properly cared for the foundation is often laid for physical disorders or disease later on. The great majority of persons are fast coming to realize the importance of preventing disease. Health is our most valued possession, and its preservation is a matter which vitally concerns every one.

Most persons, even those who are ordinarily strong and robust, feel the necessity of a tonic and blood purifier at this season. Some have no particular ailment, but are weak, debilitated and run-down. The winter life, with its decreased amount of out-door exercise, and the fact that the cold weather has kept the pores of the skin closed, prevented the usual necessary amount of refuse and waste matter from being carried out of the system. These impurities entering the circulation have weakened and thinned the blood, and this vital fluid is therefore lacking in the nourishing properties necessary to sustain and preserve systemic health, when warm, active Spring life begins.

The general bodily weakness, tired, worn-out feeling, fickle appetite, poor digestion, etc., show how weak and anemic the blood has become. Frequently skin diseases, pimples, eruptions, boils, etc., break out on the skin, and this is evidence of the impurity of the circulation.

S.S.S. is the medicine needed to correct this condition, and is the only one on which you can rely to supply the system with the best tonic effects, and at the same time thoroughly purify the blood. The use of S.S.S. at this time may save you from a long spell of sickness, and it will certainly prepare you for the strain of the long, hot Summer.

Many people have put off using a tonic until the system became so weakened it could not resist disease, and have paid for the neglect with a spell of fever, malaria, or some other trouble. S.S.S. is Nature's ideal tonic and blood purifier, made entirely of the pure extracts of healing, strengthening, health-giving roots and herbs. It tones up the stomach and digestion, aids one of that tired, worn-out feeling, improves the appetite and digestion, and in every way contributes to the strengthening and building up of the entire system. S.S.S. is recognized everywhere as the greatest of all blood purifiers, and this combined with its unequalled tonic properties, make it a medicine needed by every one in the Spring.

S.S.S. is for sale at all drug stores.

Circus Artists.

Mr. Alexander Seabert and his trained mules and ponies. Madame Lizette Seabert, queen of equestriennes.

A. Aronson and his acting dogs.

The famous Onri family of European acrobats—John, Robert, Archie and Andrew Onri, and Beale and Rosa
Lee Onri, acrobats, ground and lofty tumbling and equilibrists. First clown, A. Aronson; second clown, Robert Onri. Canvassers, jockeys,
side show spiclers, Roman soldiers,
cowboys and jesters, etc., etc.

Only the peanuts and red lemo' were lacking at the Kentucky last night. Winsome Edith Taliaferro, as "Polly of the Circus," is an attraction
in herself, but she is not the whole show; the circus was there, too—a real circus with real acrobats, riders,
clowns, donkeys, canvassers and everybody.

A large audience was delighted
with the performance, and the seat
sale for tonight indicates that the second night's performance will be no less well attended.

"Polly of the Circus" presents strong contrasts. The story is of a preacher, who falls in love with a circus performer—think of it!

His parishioners did, and the more they thought of it, the less they thought of it. You see, Polly got hurt in the ring, while the old-fashioned wagon show was playing this particular town, and she was carried to the minister's house. When you see Edith Taliaferro, you will understand better what happened to the preacher, who, by the bye, was young.

Oh, of course, he was single! This is no problem play. It's a kind of Little Minister play, only Barrie didn't write it. Miss Mayo did, and then Frederic Thompson, who conceived "Luna Park" and married Mable Taliaferro, did a few things to
it, which require extra baggage cars
to carry and are conspicuous in the production.

Well, the minister falls (reverting
to the present tense) in love
with Polly and Polly falls in love
with the minister, and tongues wag,
and that particular village has all it wants to talk about for three lively acts.

The scene in the last act when the circus wends its way from the deserted lot, is one of the most strikingly beautiful ever seen on the local stage.

Christ is not an acted character in
"The Little Town of Bethlehem," written by Spencer Trask's wife, the Katrina Trask of poetry, and being acted in the east to make money for several charities—after Ben Greet
has been paid for the services of himself and his company. In a prologue Joseph arrives at Bethlehem with Mary, who is ill and he might get lodging for her at an inn if the arrogant girl Paustina would give up one of her many rooms. So Mary has to be taken to a stable. The birth of the Christ child in a manger and the worship of him by the wise men from the east are given with few words,
mainly quoted from the New Testament and illustrated with copies of Tissot's paintings. The play takes up the romance of Paustina's love of Carlston, a young Greek poet, whose wooing she rejects to wed a wealthy man chosen by her parents. The poet goes disconsolately to some distant
land and the beauty becomes a leper,
to be driven into the wilderness an outcast.

"There is no longer any reverence
in the profession," complains Nat Goodwin. "Why, when I was a young fellow I went into a saloon in Boston with two other young fellows. Edwin Booth stood at the bar. He raised his glass and said: 'Gentlemen, your health! I am sorry I cannot have a drink with you, but I pledge your health.' Every one of the boys took off his hat, and when Mr. Booth had gone we stood there, heads bared and tears rolling down our cheeks. Now,
when I go into the Players' the fellows say, 'Hello, Nat.'"

"The Wearing O' the Green," given at the High school auditorium yesterday afternoon by the High school
boys, proved an enjoyable entertainment. It was a mock trial, with St.
Patrick on trial for his life to decide whether he was an Irishman, and for the offense of running all the snakes out of Ireland. The counsel has amusing "scraps," while the young men went through all the formalities
of securing the jury, which afforded much amusement.

A Gentleman From Mississippi

By THOMAS A. WISE

Novelized From the Play by Frederick R. Toombs

COPYRIGHT, 1902, BY THOMAS A. WISE

CHAPTER XXI.

"IF YOU CAN'T BUY A SENATOR, THREAT-EN HIM."

SENATOR PEABODY was the most surprised man in Washington when he heard the junior senator from Mississippi
state that no one was to enrich himself out of the government naval base
project.

He heaped a mental anathema on the head of Stevens for saddling such a man on the senate "machine." For Langdon would of course never have been put on "naval affairs" (just now very important to the machine) without the "O. K." of Stevens, who had won a heretofore thoroughly reliable reputation as a judge of men, or of what purported to be men. The thought that at this time, of all times,
there should be a man on the committee on naval affairs that could not be
"handled" was sufficient to make him
who revealed in the title of "boss of the senate" determine that he must get another chief lieutenant to replace Stevens, who had proved so trustworthy
in the past. Stevens had lost his cunning!

As the vote of Langdon could not be secured by humping or in exchange for favors and as it could not be "delivered," Peabody, of course, was willing to pay in actual cash for the vote.
This was the final step, but one in political conspiracies of this nature—cash.
But Langdon would not take cash, so Peabody had to resort to the last
agency of the trained and corrupt manipulator of legislation.

He would threaten.
Moreover, he knew that to make threats effective, if it is possible to do so, they must be led up to systematically—that is, they should be made at the right time. The scene must be set,
as in a play.

Senator Peabody glared at Langdon
as though to convince the latter that
to stand in his way would mean political destruction.

"No nobody is going to make a cent,
eh? Well, I suppose you want all the profits for yourself." Turning to Stevens, who had just entered, the Pennsylvanian cried:

"Do you but listen to our suddenly good friend Langdon. He wants to be the only man to make money out of the naval base. He won't listen to any other member of the naval committee making a cent out of it. Why, he—"
"Great God, sir!" exclaimed Langdon.
"You are going too far, Peabody. You state what is false, and you know it,
you—"

"Then you are willing that others should have their rightful share?" put in Stevens. "Oh, I understand now, senator."

"No, no, no!" cried Langdon. "You
do not understand, Senator Stevens,
and I must say I am ashamed to speak
of you by the honorable title of senator, sir. I will not listen to any person enriching himself at the government
expense, and I am your enemy, you,
Peabody, and you, Stevens, beyond recall. You both know you misrepresent me."

Langdon walked over to Stevens and faced him directly.

"Do you remember, Stevens, Lorimer Hawkeslee, back in wartime?"
"Yes," said Stevens, puzzled. "I remember him—a very fine gentleman."

The old planter sneered.
"Yes, a very fine gentleman! You remember he got rich out of contracts
for supplies furnished to the Confederate government when it wasn't any too easy for the Confederate government to pay and when he was in that government himself. I never quite thought that the act of a gentleman, Stevens. It seemed to me to be very like dishonesty. I refused to speak to Lorimer Hawkeslee in the Carroll
hotel at Vicksburg, and when the people there asked me why I told them,
I want to warn you, Stevens, that I'm likely to meet you some time in the Carroll hotel at Vicksburg."

Stevens backed away angrily. "I catch your insinuation, but"—he received a warning glance from Peabody and broke into a pleasant smile
calculated to deceive the old planter—
"this once I will overlook it because of our old friendship and the old days in Mississippi."

"You are a fine talker, Langdon,"
said Peabody, coming to Stevens' rescue, "but I can readily see what you are driving at. You want an investigation. You think you will catch some of us with what you reformers call
the goods, but forget evidently the entirely simple facts that your family
has invested in Altacoola lands more heavily probably than any one else
among us. You want to raise a scandal, do you? Well, go on and raise it, but remember that you will have to explain how it happened that there is $50,000 invested in the name of your son and $25,000 in the name of your daughter, Miss Carolina, not to mention a few thousands put in by the gentleman who, I am given to understand, is to be your son-in-law, Congressman Norton."

"How about that, Norton?" Peabody
asked, turning to the congressman,
who had followed Stevens.
"I corroborate all you've said," remarked Norton. "I can state positively that Senator Langdon knew that his

"I'm likely to meet you some time in the Carroll hotel."

money was going into Altacoola land.
I will swear to it if necessary," and he glared bitterly at Carolina's father, feeling certain that the girl would
cling to him as opposed to her parent.
Langdon made a threatening move at the congressman.

"I consider my riddance of you
mighty cheap at the price," he cried.

"Come, come, Langdon," fumed Peabody. "I must get away from here to catch the midnight train. Let's get through with this matter. You must realize that you cannot fight me in Washington. You must know that men call me the 'king of the senate.'
I can beat any measure you introduce.
I can pass any measure you want passed. I can make you a laughingstock or a power."

"Why, my friend from Mississippi, I
can even have your election to the senate contested, have a committee appointed to investigate the manner of your election, have that committee decide that you bought your way into the honorable body, the senate of the United States, and on the strength of that decision have you forfeit your seat! What a pretty heritage to hand down to posterity such a disgrace will be! Why,
the very school children of the future will hear about you as 'Looter Langdon,' and their parents will tell them how particularly degrading it was for a man of your reputation to drag into your dishonest schemes your son, sir, and your daughter. For who will believe that this money was not put in these lands without your consent, without your direction, your order? Did you not sign the mortgage on which this $50,000 was raised?"

Senator Langdon waved his hand deprecatingly. "I'm learning the underhand ways of you professional politicians. I'm getting wise. I'm learning 'the game,' so I know you're bluffing me, Peabody. But you forget that the game of poker was invented in Mississippi—my native state."

Pressing a button, Langdon summoned a servant and said: "Send in Mr. Haines. I guess I've got to have a witness for my side."

"It's no bluff," spoke Stevens as Haines entered. "Peabody can and will break you like a pipstems; he's don't fit to other men before you who—tried to dispute his power. But I'll try to save you. I'll ask him to be merciful. You are not of any importance in the senate. We do not need to deal with you—"

"Then why do you both spend so much time on me?" asked Langdon innocently. "Why doesn't Peabody go to Philadelphia?"

"Langdon," said Peabody, "you know
my control of the senate is no piece of fiction. But I will forgive your obstinacy, even forget it. I—"
"Look here," cried Langdon, "just because I'm a fat man don't think that I can't lose my temper." He stopped and gazed at his two colleagues.

"Now, you two men stay still one moment, and I'll tell you what really

will happen tomorrow," he exploded.
"and I'm only a beginner in the game
that's your specialty. The naval base is going to Altacoola!"

"Good!" simultaneously cried both Peabody and Stevens. "You're coming in with us!"

"No, I'm not, but I'll pass the bill so that nobody makes a cent, just as I said I would. I'll fool you both and make you both honest for once in spite of your natural dispositions."

Stevens and the Pennsylvanian
stared at each other in disgust.
"Furthermore," continued Langdon,
"Altacoola must have the base because
I've known for some time that Gulf
City was impossible. But some crooked senators would have made money
if they'd known it, so they didn't learn
it. Altacoola, that proud arm of our great golf, will have those battleships
floating on her broad bosom and the country will be the better off, and so will the sovereign state of Mississippi—
God bless it—but neither Senator Peabody of Pennsylvania nor Senator Stevens of Mississippi is going to be any better because of it. No, and if you men come to my committee room at 12:30 tomorrow noon you'll have a chance to hear how all that's coming about. If you are not there by that time I'll bring in a minority report in favor of Gulf City just to show you that I know how to play the game—
this Washington game!"

"Come, let's go. We can do nothing with him," said Peabody to the senator from Mississippi.

"Well, senator, in the name of goodness, what are you going to do? How can you win for Altacoola without letting these grafters make money out of it?" asked Haines in astonishment as the other two walked away. "What are you going to do at 12:30 tomorrow?"

Langdon turned to him and rolled his eyes toward the ceiling despairingly.
"I'm bluffed if I know!" he exclaimed.

Words.

Every little while a word seizes
upon the nation, and we live, think and dream in that word. Not so long ago the word was Awakening. While it lasted we had the Moral Awakening, the Spiritual Awakening, the Educational Awakening, the Workmen's Awakening, the Awakening
among Women, the Awakening in Morocco, the Awakening in the Factory, the Court House and the Church Pew. Then came Uplift. Therefore we had the Moral Uplift, the Irrigation Uplift, the Dry-Farming Uplift, and every other conceivable form of
effort involving resistance to the law of gravitation. At present we are in the full swing of Conservation. We have had Forest Conservation, Min-

is now invited to Conservation of

Danderine

Grows Hair
and we can PROVE IT!

DANDERINE is to the hair what fresh showers
of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong and beautiful. It once imparts a sparkling brilliancy and velvety softness to the hair, and a few weeks'
use will cause new hair to sprout all over the scalp. Use it every day for a short time, after which two or three times a week will be sufficient to complete whatever growth
you desire.

A lady from St. Paul writes in substance,
as follows:
"When I began using Danderine my hair
did not come to my shoulders and now
it is away below my hips."

Another from Newark, N. J.
"I have been using Danderine regularly
when I first started to use it I had very little hair now I have the most beautiful long and thick hair anyone would want to have."

NOW at all druggists in three sizes 25c, 50c and $1.00
per bottle

Danderine enjoys a greater sale than any other one preparation regardless of kind or brand, and it has a much greater sale than
all of the other hair preparations in the world combined.

FREE To show how quickly Danderine
acts, we will send a large sample free by return mail to anyone who

APPOINTEES SHOW CANNON'S CONTROL

House Organization is Both Stronger and Weaker.

Republican Insurgents, Led By La
Follette, Plan to Carry Fight Into Districts.

THE DEMOCRATS ARE SPLIT UP

Washington, D. C., March 18.—As a result of the extraordinary breaking down of party lines in the fight over rules the sessions of the sixty-first congress are likely to be lively ones. There are elements of discord in both parties, and a more bitter feeling has been manifested than at any time since Mr. Cannon was first elected speaker.

Disagreeable charges of trades and bargains have been made, and the result is that neither party can hold a caucus with the slightest assurance that it can command the loyal support of its members.

The house organization is both stronger and weaker than it was before the fight. The concessions made in regard to rules amount to nothing, absolutely. The speaker is as strong today as he ever was, and his power is as great to prevent any legislation which seems to him unwise or to which he for any reason is opposed.

He has absolute control of the committee on rules, of which he is chairman, through the appointment of two Republicans upon whom he can depend absolutely. The unanimous consent calendar, for which Mr. Fitzgerald deserted his own party, amounts to nothing at all, because a single objection will put any measure on this calendar out of business permanently.

Calendar Day Purely Technical.
The designation of Wednesday as calendar day is purely technical, because other provisions of the rule can be utilized to prevent consideration of any measure which is objected to by the organization. For this reason Speaker Cannon and his lieutenants have every reason to feel gratified over the result.

On the other hand, the house organization has been given a terrific blow and it has suffered a loss of political prestige it will be difficult to regain. It all along has been the stock in trade of the regulars to denounce the alliance between the insurgents and the Democrats. These insurgents were called bolters, because they saw fit to act in harmony with the Democrats on the adoption of the rules, although they had just voted for the Republican candidate for speaker.

Regularity always is something which is dear to the ear of the professional politician and his followers. Many of the men who attended the regular Republican caucus believed the rules should be altered, but at the same time they were unwilling to enter into a combination with the Democrats to secure such a result. In the caucus and until a decisive vote was taken this claim to regularity was impregnable and it would have had the support of good party men throughout the country.

Action of Democrats Suspicious.
It is unfortunate for the political prestige of the house organization that it is unable to sustain itself except by the support of more than a score of Democrats, the motives of whom were suspicious and have been confirmed by the committee appointments.

It may be that the house organization did not enter into a trade with these bolting Democrats for the purpose of sustaining the rules, but the evidence is hard to overcome, and the insurgents seem to be justified in making the charge that the combination with the Democrats on their part is not a whit worse than the combination with other Democrats on the part of the house organization.

This argument is certain to be used in the campaign which the insurgents propose to inaugurate in 50 or 75 of the most promising congressional districts of the west.

That the era of good feeling which followed upon the original selection of Speaker Cannon has been rudely destroyed was shown by a variety of incidents. During the vote Senator La Follette, a former member of the house of representatives, sat with the Wisconsin delegation and directed them in their attack on the rules.

Thought Their Chance Had Come.
La Follette was justified in this because the Wisconsin delegation at Chicago was in favor of an advanced stand in regard to house rules and failed to make this view felt. The Wisconsin men had been aching for a chance to get even and they thought they had found it when there was given an opportunity first to vote against Speaker Cannon and then to line up against the old rules.

As the speaker was leaving the white house he declared that the attack on the rules was "all tommy rot," and later on he volunteered the information that Senator La Follette was "a fake." The speaker used both of these expressions in a jolly sort of way, but the Wisconsin delegation is up in arms against an epithet of that character expressed openly by the speaker of the house against a senator of the United States from a neighboring state. They say the result of it will be beyond all question that Senator La Follette will now feel at liberty to go before his various Chautauqua and other associations and attack Speaker Cannon without gloves.

Meanwhile the Democratic managers are simply beside themselves with wrath at the defection of more than a score of their number. Their anger was increased when it was discovered that Mr. Fitzgerald, of New York, leader of the Democratic bolters, had been appointed to a place on the committee on rules without consultation with the Democratic leaders, and over the heads of a great many older and possibly wiser Democrats.

Charges were freely made that Fitzgerald had sold out his party associates for a place on this powerful committee, and these charges were apparently sustained by the fact that during the brief debate Mr. Fitzgerald was foolish enough to show resentment.

ALL THE COMFORTS OF HOME!

How alluring that does sound—and how seldom the ideal is realized in the average boarding house.

Yet there are numbers of refined, intelligent families in Paducah who would be willing to take in a congenial man or woman—no as a boarder but as an additional member of the family.

All the refined people in town are not overburdened with this world's goods, you know, and a three time ad. in the want columns of THE SUN would probably find you just the kind of a home you are having such a hard time finding—and at a cost of only a few cents.

At any rate, the sort of people you want to reach are sure to see your little ad. if you place it in THE SUN, for our paper is edited for the benefit of the better element of the city.

Clairvoyant

PROF. BURTON

OF CHICAGO,
No. 228 North Sixth Street,
Craig Hotel Annex.

I promise to tell you whether your husband, wife or sweetheart is true or false; tell you how to gain the love of the one you most desire, even though miles away; how to succeed in business, speculation, law suits; how to marry the one of your choice; how to regain youth, health and vitality; removes influences, cures drink habits, locates treasures.

A Secret You Should Know.

The power of personal magnetism, or how to influence others, or win your heart's desire. There is no hope so fond nor wish so great that can not be attained if properly worked upon by a strong clairvoyant.

During my ten years of practice I have brought together in marriage and also reunited more separated than any other five clairvoyants combined. In fact, I have made this line of occult work a specialty. Few clairvoyants (no matter how high standing) really understand this secret magnetic power. During the year ending December, 1908, my record of successful work is as follows: Reunited 168 separated; brought around 229 marriages; gained the love of certain ones, 468; overcome 699 rivals; located 32 absent persons; located two buried treasures, and hundreds of other such cases, such as business speculations, law suits and transactions of all kinds. There is no heart so sad, no home so dreary, that sunshine can not enter by this mysterious force. I have helped others, why not you? Office hours: 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. daily. Readings 50c.

will be reviewed by some of our most noted field workers, such as Dr. W. R. Lambuth, Dr. W. F. Tillet, J. W. Freeman and J. W. Irion. These men have all seen the condition in non-Christian lands and do not fail to interest all that hear them. Drs. Blackard, Sullivan, Owen and Banks will go to Fulton this afternoon and return Saturday forenoon. Dr. Sullivan is on the program for the session.

"There was something unusual about that funny story Jones told yesterday."
"I didn't notice it."
"Yes, there was though. It wasn't credited to Abe Lincoln."

CHIEF LLOYD

WILL MANAGE LOCAL BASEBALL
TEAM THIS SEASON.

Turns Down Cotton States League to Give Home Fans Worth of Their Money.

To remain at home and manage the Paducah independent team, "Chief" Harry Lloyd has turned down an offer to manage the Meridian, Miss., baseball team in the Cotton States baseball league. The "chief" is a good man to lead a ball squad, and his services were wanted badly in the south. Lloyd has promised the fans of the city a crack independent team that can put the brush to any independent team in western Kentucky. The baseball bugs have the fever bad and the pleasant weather has brought out a few players to tossing the ball. Lloyd has announced that he will secure the services of the following players to play on the independent team: Runyan, Block, Lloyd, Brahe, Robertson, Cooper, Hart, Sanders, Murray and Donovan. These will include the best players in the city and with team work can trim most any team of their class.

FACE SERIOUS CHARGE.

Alleged Embezzlers Wanted in Iowa
Under Arrest.

Kansas City, March 18.—A charge of embezzling $15,000 awaits R. M. Nichols, of Corydon, Iowa, who was arrested here last night. R. G. Mullen, who was associated with Nichols at Corydon, was extradited from New Mexico and passed through Kansas City last night bound for Iowa. Until three months ago the two men, it is charged, had lived in Corydon and represented themselves as agents of the Southwestern Smelting and Refining company, an organization which was capitalized at $1,000,000. After they had sold $15,000 in stock, the company which they represented went into receivership, it is claimed. Both men left Iowa and the grand jury indicted them.

Prominent Men Pass Away.

Russellville, Ky., March 18.—Dr. B. B. Andrews, one of the most prominent citizens of Russellville, died here suddenly last night following an illness of about one hour's duration. He was stricken with congestion of the stomach and medical aid was unavailing.

Dr. Andrews was reared in and about Franklin, Tenn., and served with gallantry throughout the civil war in the Confederate army. He was engaged in the drug business here, and was for many years mayor of Russellville. He is survived by his wife and two sons, Phil C. and Clarence Andrews.

James H. Beall, another citizen of prominence, died here last night. Mr. Beall was one of Russellville's oldest and most substantial citizens. He died from pneumonia.

QUAKE

Shakes Shores, Beaching and Wrecking Small Craft.

Reggio, March 18.—A strong earth quake shock was felt yesterday. It was especially severe at Pellaro and other small villages along the coast, causing great alarm. The shock seemed accompanied by the particularly high tide. Small boats were carried high and dry upon the land and wrecked. No casualties have been reported.
